

Knott Bad

This is a story about a teenager who takes the challenge of school seriously. She realizes that excellence is the result of perspiration as well as inspiration. She is receptive to ways she can improve. This is the key to success both in school and in life.

Tiffany Knott, a senior from Brookfield, enrolled in AFROTC program, was recognized for outstanding attitude and performance in English class. Her instructor, Dawn Adams, said, “Tiffany is an amazing student. She takes feedback seriously and makes every effort to make corrections. She is producing an outstanding research paper. Adams also commented upon the maturity demonstrated by Knott. “Tiffany is respectful to me and to the other students in the classroom.”

The news media write articles about why Johnny can’t read, write or stay away from substance abuse. It is just as important to publicize the accomplishments of the kids who have their heads on straight and traveling in the right direction. They represent our best bet for a brighter tomorrow. We predict this is not the last time that you will read good things about Tiffany Knott in the newspaper.

The Colonial Bake Shoppe on Elm Road presented her with the fresh baked cake of her choice to recognize her success at the Trumbull Career & Technical Center.
