

STUDENTS OF THE MONTH FOR OCTOBER

Jeremy Dripps-Building Trades-Hubbard

Jeremy has been outstanding with his helpfulness in class. He is able to communicate in sign language that is of great assistance in working with deaf students. Jeremy always does his homework and puts forth quality work in the program.

John Cotton –Instructor

Tony Rowles-Marketing-Bristol

Tony is the type of kid that you want your daughter to date. He gets along with everyone, shows up for school early, meets all deadlines and strives to do his very best. Tony has perfect attendance for the past two school years.

Michelle Plakosh-Instructor

Elisa Gemik-English Newton Falls

Elisa is a self motivated student who stays busy and knows how to complete assignments without being asked twice. She does quality work and has demonstrated a very mature attitude during her senior year of high school.

Jane Miller-Instructor

Tori Van Horn Multimedia Tech Prep- Lakeview

Tori has set a new meaning to the words OVER ACHIEVER Her philosophy is to get involved in as many academic and program projects as possible. She does justice to all of them. She participates in the English Festival, SADD, BPA, Academic Challenge, Youth Leadership, National Honor Society and page one journalism for the Tribune.

John Bagnola-Instructor

Michael Varner- Mathematics-Champion

Michael I is a great leader in the classroom. He assists other students without direction, shares his perspective and completes assignments to the highest standards. Michael values educations and shows appreciation for math.

Calvin Roby-Instructor

Kayla McMinn-English Maplewood

During the present school year, Kayla has demonstrated herself to be the hardest working student I have. She stays after class for help, works through lunch and will e-mail me if she has questions about an assignment. She accepts constructive criticism because she wants to improve.

Melissa Sydlowski-Instructor

Brittany Reynolds-Practical Nursing-Warren Harding

She is always prepared for class. She possesses a positive attitude that spreads to other students. She is not afraid to ask questions and understands what it means to listen.

Melissa Jerina-Instructor

Michael McCoy-Electronics-Maplewood

He is a positive asset to the TCTC. He is very successful in electronics because he pays attention and applies himself to the task at hand. He ranks near the top of his class and was selected for the Career Technical National Honor Society.

Chuck Peebles-Instructor

Sandra Reapsummer-Cosmetology-Liberty

Sandra has wonderful people skills that are important in the hair styling business. She will relate to clients in a very positive manner. She is always willing to help and to learn. It is a pleasure to have her as a student in my lab.

Rosalyn Gault-Instructor